Wen

Clear, very windy, cold, bracing.

- (Took 10.14 train (Back Bay) to Rosville 1 I had a very delightful time with Dr. Kennedy, Mildred & their Inf. all.
 The Dr. has trouble with his eyes with a sort of grippe and it has been hard for him. Mildred & I took the 3.20 train to Boston, she going to Brookline & I home by 4.30.

- (May, Geo. & May came later to see the presents.
 Wrote letters this evening. More still.

Wea

Snow last night, continues, in the day & turning to a drizzle. Ground dangerously slippery.

It is the last day of the year and the anniversary of our Wedding Day in 1878. 33 years ago, Gifts were exchanged & we received letters from Dr & Mrs Coolidge & flowers from Miss Brown. We dined with Dr.
& Mrs. Coolidge -

I have worked much to-day on my Annual Report for the Shakespeare Club for Jan.

This P.M. I called on Dr. Robins who continues to improve.
They are nearly ^{going} to start for Bermuda on Wed. Dr. R. will pressing apparatus for some work.
Wrote to Prof & Mrs. Bailey to-day & Mrs. & Rebecca Steere.
May Dexter took tea with us.

Smith place close to the highway and near the thorns, about 40 ft up. (1) I looked the ♂ perched over the place and alighted by her within a foot or two I watched them about 5 minutes - then the ♂ soared straight away and alighted on a small white vine across the opening about 40 ft up. The ♀ soon followed and alighted very close to the ♂.
They were silent and did

Clear, calm, hot.

In Cambridge brook the same sps of Ducks + 1 Coot as on the previous days except the Buffhead - they seemed of the same number - they were asleep or feeding.

In the centre of the Pond were some 300 Herring Gulls. A few Black Ducks were scattered here & there on the Pond -

Gulls were soaring overhead, while those on the water were either resting or drinking, their heads under water and flapping their wings and sometimes chasing each other. Occasionally their notes were heard - the sun shone brightly on them -
